

Key Figures

Among the 388 ENSAE students, 20 are carrying out a year-long internship and 15 are studying abroad. The 353 other students are

- Female (36%)
- Foreigners (20%)
- Civil servant trainees (7%)

2006 graduates easily found jobs, like those in previous years. Here are some figures:

85% of 2006 graduates found a job less than 2 months after the end of the year (among whom 60% before the end of the year). 30% of graduates chose to work abroad.

Those staying in France get an average salary of &euro;40,000 (+ &euro;2,500 average bonus ). Those working abroad get an average salary of &euro;57,000 Plus an 8,000 average bonus.

2006 graduates positions are as follows:

13% keep studying (research, Sciences Po, etc.)

- 53% work in finance insurance

21% work in financial engineering

14 % are traders

11% are actuaries

7% are portfolio managers

- 24% are work in market survey and consulting

17% economic analysis

4% consulting

3% audit

Since ENSAE was founded, more than 5,000 statisticians economists have graduated. For further information about ENSAE careers, see ENSAE Alumni.